WOMAN'S RUGGEDNESS.
[Detroit Free Press.]

"The mortality reports of Detroit or any other city in the country ought to prove the death of ten females to one male," said a Detroit physician, the other day when speaking of the way women dress.

The best physicians advise warm clothing and proper precautions when advising with a big, rugged man, and men follow this advice and die of lung trouble. This day you will see men on the streets with pulse-warmers, heavy overcoats, fur caps, woolen underclothing, thick socks, etc., and ahead and behind them you will see women in almost Summer attire. Men are brought up to look on women as frail, delicate creatures, and to be tenderly cared for, and yet there are hundreds of them in every town and city who can and do endure more to the physical system than men dare attempt. A woman will wear a two-ounce bonnet to church or the opera and makes no complaint. A man goes out wearing a sealskin cap, and perhaps has his ears frost-bitten. Thousands of women wear cotton stockings all Winter long, while men's toes are nipped through warm woolen socks.

The great majority of the women do not wear woolen underclothing. At least ninety men out of every hundred either wear red flannels or merinos, and yet they seem to suffer more than women. Men will wear double mittens, while a woman puts on kids and seems to feel no cold. A man's beaver overcoat alone will weigh as much as all the garments put on by a woman in this weather, and yet he is the one who complains of the chilly winds.

We believe that men are oftener afflicted with sore throats, coughs, colds, bronchial and lung disorders, and yet men wear chest-protectors, take care of their throats, and know the dangers of drafts. This being so, men must either stop thinking of the female sex as the weaker vessel, or it must prove that overcoats and woolens are unnecessary to health and comfort. During the last polar wave which rolled over this section, when the street car horses were covered with ice, and the frost on the windows was nearly a quarter of an inch thick, ladies rode up anddown in kidgloves and, light bonnets and made no complaints, though strong, robust men, in the same car, dressed as warmly as men can dress in this country, could not sit still for the cold.

MARRIAGE.—Marriage is to woman at once the happiest and saddest event of her life; it is the promise of future bliss raised on the death of all present enjoyment. She quits her home, her companions, her occupations, her amusements—everything on which she has hitherto depended for comfort, for affection, for kindness, for pleasure. The parents by whose advice she has been guided; the sister to whom she has dared to impart every embryo thought and feeling; the brother who has played with her, by turn counselor and counseled, and the younger children, to whom she has hitherto been the mother and playmate—all are to be forsaken at one fell stroke. Every former tie is loosened, the spring of every hope and action is to be changed, and yet she flees with joy into the untrodden path before her. She bids a fond and grateful adieu to the life that is past, and turns with excited hopes and joyous anticipations to happiness to come. Then woe to the man that blights such fair hopes, who can, coward-like break the illusion that has won her, and destroy the confidence which love has inspired.

SILENT MEN.—Washington never made a speech. In the zenith of his fame he once attempted it, failed, and gave it up confused and abashed. In framing the Constitution of the United States, the labor was almost wholly performed in a Committee of the Whole, of which George Washington was the Chairman, but he made only two speeches during the convention, which were of a very few words each. The convention, however, acknowledged the master spirit, and historians affirm that had not been for his personal popularity, and the thirty words of his first speech, pronouncing it the best that could be united upon, the Constitution would have been rejected by the people. Thomas Jefferson never made a speech. He couldn't do it. Napoleon, whose executive ability is almost without parallel, said his greatest trouble was in finding men of deeds rather than of words.

He who before knew not what it was to commune with his heart on any serious subject, now puts the question to himself—for what purpose he was sent forth into this mortal transitory state; what his fate is likely to be when it concludes; and what judgment he ought to form of those pleasures, which amuse for a little, but which he now sees cannot save the heart from anguish in the evil day. Touched by the hand of thoughtful melancholy, that airy edifice of bliss, which fancy had raised up for him, vanishes away. He beholds in the place of it, the lonely and barren desert, in which, surrounded with many a disagreeable object, he is left musing upon himself.

Gen. Joseph E. Johnston was lately in Raleigh, and a gentleman asked him rather pointedly why the Southern Army did not take Washington after the first Battle of Manassas. Rising on his toes, he replied: "There were two reasons—myself and, the Potomac River. I had reached that age that I know an American soldier could not ford a river a mile wide and 18 feet deep."

The doctors say that sealskin is unhealthy. Bless them! Now, if they can be induced to say the same of sixbutton kids, point lace and a few such trifles, coming generations of married men will rise up and call them blessed.

"If I were as hard up as you are," remarked one citizen to another this week, "I'd get out of it some way if I had to beg or steal." "What, I beg? I steal?" exclaimed the other, indignantly—"I'd sooner—sooner get trusted!"

A restaurant proprietor told one of his waiters he would make a good clairvoyant, "Because," he exclaimed, "you know more when you are asleep than when you are awake."

A military man, pitching into an opponent, exclaimed: "Why, his sword was never drawn but once, and that was in a raffle."

A grateful return is due to the author of a benefit; and whoever is entrusted with the property of another, has bound himself to the sacred duty of restitution.

Why He Stole.
[N. Y. Graphic.]

He had a wife.
His salary was $2,500 per annum.
But she complained.
She wanted a better house.
Better clothes.
Nothing fit to go out in.
No country cottage.
Nor carriage.
Nor front pews.
Nor society.
She coveted a place on the ragged edge of the select five hundred.
She kept it up,
Night and day.
And moaned and Groaned and Growled and Wept.
He lacked style, also.
As well as new clothes every six weeks, and various other things.
He knew how his employer made several hundreds daily on the street.
A thousand or so would not be missed for a few hours.
So he took it, went upon the street, and won.
She got her sealskin.
He took more and lost.
More to get that back and lost.
More yet.
Defalcation discovered.
He wears the penitentiary check.
Others are going to.
Beware.
But if you win regularly, society won't be hard on you.
But if you lose, society will sit down on you.
Beware.
Better is a modest room up two pair of back stairs than a cell in the Tombs.
And a plain woolen jacket rather than a pair of prison uniform pants on poor Charlie's legs.

How Women Vote in Kansas.

One sees in Kansas many unfamiliar sights, but none more interesting than that of ladies voting. They have the privilege of voting in all matters pertaining to school.

As far as observation goes, the ladies have minds of their own. They neither vote for the handsomest man nor the ones their husbands tell them to vote for, unless the candidate is in their opinion the proper one.

Their votes cannot be bought. They are universally on the side of morality and temperance; hence the workers in the temperance cause are warm advocates of equal suffrage. Election days pass quietly. If there is any drinking or fighting done, it not at the polls. Everything is orderly there, notwithstanding contrary reports circulated by anti-suffragists in the Eastern States. Candidates keep carriages running for the accommodation of ladies, but a great many walk up and deposit their votes. As the result so far has been very satisfactory, even to the men (the brutes), it will probably be but a short time until equal suffrage is granted. The enrolling clerks of the Legislature are ladies, also a large proportion of County Superintendents, who, in every instance, discharge their duties in a manner that gives universal satisfaction.

CASTILE SOAP.—The hard soaps made in this country are almost exclusively from animal fats; in the south of Europe, where the olive grows abundantly, the poorer kinds of olive oil are used for soapmaking. Common soaps are soda and animal fat. Castile soap is soda and vegetable oil. In making castile soap great care is taken to avoid an excess of alkali (the soda), only just enough being used to neutralize the oil. On this account the soap is much milder, and may be used on wounds and other surfaces where common soap would irritate and give pain. The mottled appearance of Castile soap is due to a small quantity of solution of copperas (sulphate of iron) which is stirred into it before it hardens; this leaves a bluish oxide of iron in the soap which, when exposed to the air, becomes changed to the red oxide. White Castile soap is also sold, which is the same as the other, without the coloring. Though called Castile, it is by no means exclusively made in Spain, the largest share coming from the south of France, and indeed it is generally known in Europe as Marseilles soap.

A sailor was on trial for beating his wife and the judge, thinking he could make himself more plainly understood, if he spoke in a nautical manner, said:

"My good man, you know you should not beat your wife, she being the weaker vessel."

"Ay, ay, sir" replied the sailor, "but if she is the weaker vessel, why the duse don't she carry less sail?"

He was acquitted.

"What shall I preach about?" said a minister to the pastor of a colored flock which he was to address. "Well, mos' any subject will be 'ceptable," was the reply; "only I'd like to gib you one word ob caution." "Ah! what is that?" "Well ef I was you, I'd tech werry light on the ten commandments." "Indeed! and why?" "Oh, cos I hab notise dat dey mos' alwa s hab a damp'nin' effect on de congregation."

To find recreation in amusement is not happiness, for this joy comes from without, and is, therefore, dependent on accidents, which often cause inevitable affliction; but the happiness that is found in the soul itself is abiding.

There was more philosophy and enterprise in a bee's lower extremity than there is in the whole tribe of that class of stick-whittlers who think their mission on earth is to buttonhole editors and tell them just how to run a newspaper.

When we are out of sympathy with the young, then I think our work in this world is over. That is a sign that the heart has begun to wither—and that is a dreadful kind of old age.

The small boy never wishes that he was twins except when two different Sunday school Christmas trees are being held on the same evening.

Harvey discovered the circulation of the blood, it is true; but it would take some one greater than he to discover the circulation of a patent inside.

One habituates one's self more easily to the faults of those one loves, than to the virtues of those one dislikes.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12th, 1880.

The interest here in Maine politics is unabated, and the failure of the House to obtain a legal quorum is considered but the beginning of the end that that will witness a complete back down of the fusionists, and seating of the Republican members from the disfranchised cities. The action of General Chamberlain in assuming command, and acting Governor of the State, is commanded by everyone, as conclusive evidence that Democratic fraud and usurpation will not capture the Governorship. He is determined to see peace preserved, the whole situation in Maine is very encouraging, and Republicans have confidence that the ability and good generalship displayed by Mr. Blaine so far, will bring them through all right.

It is stated in official circles, and in letters from Illinois that the Hon. John B. Hawley, of Illinois, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, will be a candidate for Governor of Illinois at the next Republican State Convention. In 1869 he was elected to Congress from the Rock Island District of that State, and served in thest41, 42d, and 43dCongresses, when he returned home and resumed the practice of law. He took high rank in Congress as a zealous advocate of Republican principles. In Dec. 1877, he was called by President Hayes to the office he now so ably fills. This Office was unsought by him, and his nomination was unanimously confirmed by the Senate, without reference to a Committee—a compliment paid only to ex-Senators and men of distinguished ability. In advocating this nomination his friends may well point with pride to his record, not only as a faithful champion of Republican principles, but as a man who has honorably and ably filled every position to which he has been called.

Ouray, and his delegation of White River Utes, arrived here last night, and will have a "talk" with Secretary Schurz to-day. The pow wow will be secret because of the delicate subject to be considered. Secretary Schurz is confident that this visit and conference will convince these Indians that their only hope of pardon will be in the surrender of the murderers of Meeker, and the outrages of the agency women, and that refusal will result in their extermination. The delay of active proceedings against these Indians has well nigh exhausted the patience of people throughout the country, and has caused much abuse to be heaped upon Secretary Schurz. It will be hard to find excuses for further delay, and it is thought that the Secretary himself is about to agree with General Sherman, and other army officers in ordering their removal from Colorado.

Senator Voorhees organized his "exodus" Committee last week, but he is rather uncertain where, or how to go to work. The distinguished Senator forgets that hundreds of these exodus people are passing through the city, and would gladly give their evidence. But it is plain to see that such evidence as they would give is not wanted. The Committee has not organized to find the cause they have for coming North; Senator Windom explained that to the satisfaction of all, but to find out what Republican leaders had started this movement. This little game is not working as the Democrats hoped it would, and all the members, but Voorhees are anxious to let the thing drop.

MAXWELL.

SENSIBLE.—The Placer Argus, published at Auburn, comes to us in folio form, its worthy proprietor having discarded the "Patent" inside, preferring to give its readers fresh reading matter at home. This is a sensible move, and it would be better for every paper in the State if all the mechanical work were done at home. The advertising space publishers have to allow the "Patent" man is more than sufficient to pay for all the extra help required to "set" the entire paper at home.

The President has nominated James Russel Lowell of Massachusetts, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to England; John W. Foster, of Indiana, Minister to Russia; Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin, Minister to Spain; Philip H. Morgan, of Louisiana, Minister to Mexico.

A broker in Sacramento, purchased some brass slag from a pretended miner, thinking he had a bargain in gold specimens. It cost him $60, and is worth only two cents.

Jules Favre, the eminent French statesman and Republican member of the Senate for the Department of the Rhone, and also member of the French Academy, died on Monday, aged seventy-one.

The President nominated Henry G. Langley, James R. Hardenburgh. Alexander Dunn and Charles W. Dana as the Census Supervisors for California.

Chinese are no more to be employed in any manner on Nevada county roads or in any capacity, except as interpreters.

Water Works.

The work of laying the pipe and putting up the hydrants on Main street will be about completed to-day. The directors of the Bodie Water Company are entitled to the thanks, and gratitude of our people for the energy displayed in pushing this important work through in the face of the dull times and backwardness of many property owners in backing them up with necessary funds to carry on the work. There is considerable yet due on the subscription list, and the Company will be short some $2,000 over and above the amount subscribed. The lateness of the season caused a heavier expense for ditching than was anticipated, but the sum total is a mere pittance for a town like Bodie, and our property owners should come forward and pay their quota promptly. Owners of some of the best paying property in Bodie have not offered to pay a cent toward this important enterterprise—and without a water supply for fire purposes, what guarantee have they that they will not some fine day find their property going to ashes on account of their illiberality or lukewarmness. We suggest that our insurance agents correspond with their companies and enlist them in the cause. In the Eastern States insurance companies take stock and assist water companies, and why should not our California towns receive a like assistance, and particularly Bodie, where there are so many heavy insurance risks.

Charles O'Connor in a letter to the Democratic club of Essex County, N. Y., pronounces the government of our Republic a failure, on its present basis, and rests his hopes for the future on a collapse and a reconstruction of a basis which he proposes in the letter. The severe illness passed through some time ago must have impaired his mind.

A Hardy blasting powder factory is to be established at Martinez. It is said that this powder is safe, as it will not explode without tamping and being ignited with well tamped fuse.

The people of Sutter Creek, are organizing against the hoodlum element of that town.

"Any burglars in this town?" a traveler asked a villager in Western Tennessee.—"Well, no, not now, stranger; they was a couple of 'em here last Spring, but one night they broke into the editor's house and starved to death before they could get out."

Ham C. Harrison, of Sacramento, who has been engaged as expert in the examination of the books of the county officers of Kern county, died suddenly at Bakersfield, on Monday morning last.

A late Lord Chancellor of England, when asked the secret of his success in his multifarious achievements, replied, "I am a whole man to one thing at a time."

JOB PRINTING.—Job printing of the finest description will be furnished at this office at Sacramento prices.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

PIONEERS' MEETING.—On Tuesday evening last, the Pioneers held their regular meeting and transacted the following business: Mrs. Lucy Bennett, Mrs. M. M. Brierly, John Ballard, George C. Gorham Jr. and John I. Ginn were proposed for membership. J. N. Harrison was elected Secretary, vice M. Gregory, resigned. J. N. Harrison was appointed on the Investigating Committee, vice Pat Holland, resigned.

A vote of thanks was extended to the press of Bodie for courtesies shown in advertising free of cost.

PIONEERS' BANQUET.—The second reunion of the Pacific Coast Pioneers, to take place at the Grand Central Hotel, on February 23d, promises to be superior to any banquet yet given in Bodie. The tickets are limited and are only for members and friends. No one will be solicited to take a ticket, but friends of the Society can procure them of the Committee, provided the limit is not exhausted. This is simply a social entertainment for mutual enjoyment, as the society disposes of tickets at cost.

NOT POSTED.—The News censures the Board of Supervisors because Lake District has no school. Who is to blame? Not the Supervisors. The way to have a school is to organize a District, and that can only be accomplished upon a petition to the Supervisors to that effect, and then the Superintendent of Public Schools will apportion the moneys it is entitled to. The ignorance of our cotemporary on county affairs, and all others, as for that matter, is astounding.

NEW COURT HOUSE.—Under "New Today" will be found a notice for receiving sealed proposals to erect a Court House. While we admit that it is absolutely unnecessary that it should be built, yet we think that the imposition of a special tax for that purpose might have been avoided by issuing of bonds, that the future might pay its share toward its erection. This is all the fault we find.

IMPORTANT.—Nothing but intrinsic merit can account for the enormous sale of Emil Frese's Hamburg Tea. There is no pleasanter remedy for boils, carbuncles, ulcerated and running sores, pimples, dry scabs, salt rheum, skin diseases, and all scrofulous affections arising from an impure state of the blood and a disordered liver, than this most wonderful medicine. Try it.

FLORAL.—James Vick of Rochester, N.Y., has sent us a copy of his annual "Floral Guide," for 1880, which contains valuable information regarding the culture of flower "and garden sass." Mr. Vick is one of the largest dealers in the United States, and those ordering seeds, bulbs, etc., will get what they send for, and of the best quality.

CERTIFICATE OF CHARACTER.—The Free Press heads its column with a notice that it "pays for" its telegrams. This reminds of us of the girl who carried in her pocket a certificate of character. Is it necessary that our cotemporary should keep a standing notice that it pays its debts? It should be above suspicion.

WHOSE OX?—The publication of the delinquent tax list in our next issue will illustrate the value of property when the Assessor is "around" and when the owner want to sell. We trust that the next Assessment will show that they are put at the price they are worth as claimed by the owners.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST.—Sheriff Taylor has placed in our hands the Delinquent Tax List for publication. It will be published on Saturday next, January 31st. Taxes paid on or before Wednesday next will not be charged with costs of advertising. The amount delinquent is $11,763 97, and the parcels are 261, and the space for the list will be about five of our columns.

RELIGIOUS.—Rev. G. B. Hinkle will hold divine services in Odd Fellows' Hall, over Page, Wheaton & Co's store, to-morrow at 11 o'clock A. M. and 7 o'clock P. M. Sabbath School at 2 P. M. All are cordially invited to attend.

SCHOOL MONEY.—The State Controller has issued a warrant for support of common schools in Mono County in the sum of $404 39.

THE WEATHER.—This week the weather has been fine, and the snow is fast disappearing.

RECEIPTS.—The receipts at the first performance of Uncle Tom's Cabin were $300. 25.

NEW TYPE.—The reading matter in this issue is printed on new type, from Painter & Co., San Francisco.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.—The Board of Supervisors will meet in regular session on Monday week next.

BULWER-STANDARD MILL.—This mill will start up about Thursday next.

Enlargement of the Occidental Hotel.

For sometime it has been in contemplation by its enterprising owners, Kemp & Coleman, to enlarge the Occidental Hotel and make it the first-class house of Bodie. They have perfected their plans, and it will be but a short time before the work of enlargement will be commenced and pushed to an early completion. We were yesterday shown the plans, drawn by J. R. Roberts, Architect. The building will have a frontage on Main street of 54 feet, and will run back to Mono street, 130 feet. The front elevation will be 39 feet, and will present a fine appearance, being ornamental, but not too much so. It will be surmounted by a fancy iron railing, and a flagstaff. The first floor front will be plate glass recess doors and windows, and the second floor front will have bay windows with doors opening on to a commodious porch, 10x54 feet. On the first floor will be the stage office, 12x30 feet, on the uptown side, and then comes the hotel office, 17x24 feet. There will be a barber shop, in the rear of which and the hotel office will be a finely fitted up billiard room, 29x40 feet—including the barber shop. In the rear of the billiard room will be the dining room 29x54 feet; and adjoining, but slightly detached, will be the culinary department, 12x28, vulgarly known as the kitchen. In the rear rooms of the present building there will be three toilet rooms on each story. Adjoining the kitchen the laundry room will occupy a space of 12x20 feet. The second floor will have four bay windows in front, with two doors opening on to the porch. There will be a wide hall through the center of this floor, which will be lighted by a skylight, which will also give light to the billiard room through a skylight, 3½x12 feet, through the hall floor and protected by a neat railing. The rooms on this floor will be en suite and single, well lighted and ventilated, and furnished in the best style. The parlor will be immediately over the office and be of the same size, 17x24 feet, and will be richly furnished, one of the pleasant features being a grand piano, now on the way from San Francisco. There will be 60 rooms in the building, and it is the intention of the energetic young proprietors to keep the Occidental in first-class style and equal to any hotel in the State. The plans have been carefully drawn with a view to comfort and convenience, and safety in case of fire, spacious stairways leading to the hall below, and to the dining room, office and barber's shop. The present entrance to the hotel will be the ladies' entrance in the new building. The lumber has been ordered and work will be commenced within the coming week.

THE BODIE MINES.

AURORA TUNNEL AND MINING COMPANY.

W. P. Holmes, Supt.

At the annual election of this Company, held at San Francisco, on Monday last, the following Directors were elected: A. J. Ralston, H. M. Yerrington, R. N. Graves, N. K. Masten, C. Van Dyck Hubbard.

SUPERINTENDENT'S ANNUAL REPORT.

BODIE, January 16, 1880.

Since my last annual report the work on Aurora Tunnel has not been continuously prosecuted, though a large amount of prospecting has been accomplished. The total length of the tunnel is now 1473 feet. The segregation of the Dudley company cuts off 1125 feet of this developed portion of our ground. This leaves 348 feet of Aurora tunnel ground opened by the tunnel which we have passed through—a most favorable vein formation—in which I have located the Hunne ledge and in which also occurs our Silas B. Smith location, dating back to Sept. 7, 1876, and is the oldest location south of the Standard mine and lies directly on the line of vein formation from the Standard, south and through the Bodie and Mono mines. A shaft had been started directly on the line of the tunnel by the original locators and at the highest point to prospect this portion of the S. B. Smith location. This shaft we continued down and into the tunnel for an air shaft (air shaft No. 3), total depth 178 feet. Both shaft and tunnel at this point are in most favorable vein formation and seems only to lack depth to concentrate the numerous seams and veins of ore occurring for nearly every 60 feet in width. The discovery shaft is further north and in the exact center of the location and on croppings and boulders similar to those on the Standard ground and are the first croppings south of that mine. At this point a shaft had also been sunk by original locators, some 60 feet in depth, the ledge pitching out of the shaft and to the east. We continued this shaft with a windlass to a depth of 200 feet, passing through other favorable ground, we then crosscut to the east 230 feet, the ground in the latter looking especially well, but as we conclusively proved, in the case of the other shaft referred to, lacking depth. This is all that could be done with a windlass and without machinery. I will here state that this shaft was sunk and cribbed with reference to the probability that at some future time it would be made a main working shaft for this portion of our ground, and with the exception of about four feet of water in the bottom and crosscuts, is now in perfect order, and could be made a main working shaft for any depth and for any machinery not beyond the capacity of a two-compartment shaft. The Dudley Company are now crosscutting west at a depth of 500 feet at their shaft, which will give a depth of 678 feet in the S. B. Smith ground and nearly as much in the Hume ledge. It will be possible for the Tunnel Company to take up this crossent when they reach their west boundary line, and continue it by the aid of blowers, etc., at least through the best portion of our ground, and which it will cut as before mentioned—678 feet deep. With regard to developments made lately at greater depth, to the west of the herein described portion of our ground, I am unable to report accurately. There are rumors of good ore in the Champion, lying directly in the line of the Aurora Tunnel. Also in the Mono in their work to the south. The following is the balance sheet to January 1st:

NOONDAY.

John Parham, Sup't.

Pushing crossents east on the 400 and 500-levels, and making good progress. That on the 400-level is in about 115 feet; that on the 500 is in 80 feet. Both crosscuts are looking well, and several veins have been cut in the one on the 400-level. Sinking winze on the 200-level to connect with the crossent from the 400-level, and down about 35 feet. The vein is strong and looking well. The drift on No. 1 vein 300-level has been connected with the winze near the old Noonday shaft. Stoping in North Noonday from No. 2 vein, 300-level, and from Noonday vein 200-level; and both stopes are looking well. Getting out only sufficient ore to keep the mill running—100 tons a day—but enough can be taken out to keep another of the same capacity constantly employed. The mill is running steadily and doing good work.

SPAULDING.

W. A. Searles, Sup't.

The mill of this company is rapidly being completed. The engine room is finished and the engine is set and ready for the ornamental touches. It is 60 horse power, 14 inch cylinder and 30 inch stroke, and was built at the Fulton Iron Works, San Francisco. The stamp tanks, 14 in number and 5x8½, feet are all built, and in the most substantial being heavily bolted, and the bottom will be tarred and false bottoms put in each. The eight pans and four settlers are in place, and the two agitators were being put together yesterday when we visited the mill. The retort furnace is finished, and the battery is up, and every department of the works is being hurried forward to make it as complete a mill as can be found in any mining district on the coast.

BOSTON CON.

Martin Jones, Supt.

Work at the mine is confined to the 200 foot level. East crossent is in 53 feet, and has been passing through vein formation for past 19 feet, with no east wall in sight. Now driving south on the ore vein near the foot or west wall, the ore being about two feet wide, and giving assays from $8 to $60 per ton. The prospects of the mine warrant deeper developments, as it is now on the apex of a large and valuable ore body.

BOOKER.

A. M. Ellsworth, Sup't.

The new plunger at the 480 is doing good duty, and the water is being easily handled. Crosscutting from the 400 and 480 levels. From the 400 the crossent is 120 feet, and in vein matter, which looks very encouraging. At the 480 level the crosecut is in 30 feet from the station. The pumps and everything about the mine were never in better working trim.

TIOGA.

C. H. Golding Supt.

The main shaft has a attained a depth of 751 feet, having been sunk and timbered since last report, 9 feet. Have passed through the ledge in the shaft, and are now sinking on the foot, or east, wall, and will open a station at the 800-level and crossent to the ledge. The Syndicate drift is in 653 feet, the progress for the week having been 5 feet, the face being in hard blasting ground. The east crossent from the Ralston winze on 620-level has been advanced 16 feet this week. In this crossent a very valuable vein, 4 feet in width, has been cut, and the crosscut is still in vein matter of a favorable character. Everything about the mine is in good working order.

CHAMPION.

L. J. Hancock, Sup't.

The new boiler has been set and the smoke stack raised. The machinery is arriving and being placed in position as expeditiously as possible. These works are going to be second to none in the district, outside of the Standard.

FINE CONFECTIONARY.—Mrs. Swan has opened a confectionary store in Abbot's building, on Main street, between Standard Avenue and Mill street. She intends to keep a fresh supply at all times and at reasonable prices.

On Thursday last George Rolfe, Wm. Lucas and J. A. McDonald were suffocated in the Bonanza mine at Howland Flat.

THE CHRONICLE.

BODIE, JANUARY 24, 1880.

The Horseshoe Superstition.

The origin of the horseshoe superstition has never been satisfactorily explained. Among the theories offered, that contained in the following will rank among the possibilities: "The horseshoe was of old held to be of special service as a security against the attacks of evil spirits. The virtue may have been assigned, perhaps, by the rule of contraries, from it being a thing incompatible with the Evil One; or from the rude resemblance which the horseshoe bears to the rays of glory which in ancient pictures are made to surround the heads of saints and angels; or finally, from some notions of its purity, acquired through passing through the fire. This latter supposition receives some countenance from the method reported to for the cure of horses that had become vicious, or afflicted by any distemper which village farriery did not understand: such disease was invariably attributed to witchcraft, and the mode of cure seems to imply the belief that the imperfect purification by fire of the shoes which the animal wore had afforded an inlet to malevolent influences. Accordingly, the horse was led into the smithy; the door was closed and barred; the shoes were taken off and placed in the fire, and the witch or warlock was speedily under the necessity of removing the spell under which the animal suffered. * * * Sailors are, for the most part, careful to have a horseshoe nailed to the mizzenmast, or somewhere on the deck near midships, for the protection of the vessel. The Chinese have their tombs built in the shape of a horseshoe, which custom is very curious, as it may be fairly regarded as a branch of the superstition long prevalent among ourselves."

HISTORY OF THE OLD RED CENT.—As the old "red cent" has passed out of use, and, except rarely, out of sight, like the "old oaken bucket," its history is a matter of sufficient interest for preservation. The cent was first proposed by Mr. Robert Morris, the great financier of the revolution, and named by Jefferson two years after. It began to make its appearance from the mint in 1792. It bore the head of Washington on one side and thirteen links on the other. The French revolution soon created a rage for French ideas in America, which put on the cent instead of the head of Washington the head of the Goddess of Liberty—a French liberty—with neck thrust forward and flowing locks. The chain on the reverse side was displaced by the olive wreath of peace; but the French liberty was short-lived, and so was her portrait on the cent. The next head or figure that succeeded this—the staid classic dame with a fillet around her hair—came into fashion about thirty or forty years ago, and her finely chiseled Grecian features have been but slightly altered by the lapse of time.

ABOUT LIGHTNING.—It is never too soon to go into the house when a storm is rising. When the clouds are fully charged with electricity they are most dangerous, and this fluid obeys a subtle attraction which acts at great distances and in all directions. A woman told us of a bolt which came down her mother's chimney from a rising cloud when the sun was shining overhead. N. P. Willis writes of a young girl killed while passing under a telegraph wire on the brow of a hill, while she was hurrying home before a storm. People should not be foolhardy about sitting on porches or by open windows, whether the storm is hard or not. Mild showers often carry a single charge which falls with deadly effect. It may or may not be fatal to stay out; it is safe to be in the house, with the windows and doors shut. The dry air of a house is a readier conductor of lightning than the damp air outside, and a draught of air invites it. A hot fire in a chimney attracts it, so to speak.

IMPORTANT TO MOTHERS.—Another important fact has been discovered by physiologists—namely, that the saliva of an infant, before the infant has its teeth, is incapable of converting starch into sugar. This explains at once why all attempts at substituting farinaceous food in place of mother's milk, in the case of infants, invariably fail. Such children cannot digest starch, and are underfed, or even starved, dying finally of marasmus. Starch, arrowroot, sago, tapioca, etc., are useless, because indigestible, for children before they have cut their teeth.

Extraordinary stories are told of the healing properties of a new oil which is easily made from the yolk of hen's eggs. The eggs are first boiled hard, and the yolks are then removed, crushed and placed over a fire, where they are carefully stirred until the substance is just on the point of catching fire, when the oil separates, and may be poured off. One yolk will yield nearly two teaspoonfuls of oil. It is in general use among the colonists of South Russia as a means of curing cuts and bruises, etc.

Among the inmates of the Pennsylvania Training School, Delaware county, is a remarkable boy. So retentive is his memory that after listening to a sermon or other discourse he is able to repeat it verbatim, even to the intonations of the speaker. As a test of his powers the lad was recently taken to Westchester, heard a scientific lecture, and the next day repeated it entire, rendering the Latin phrases as glibly as the vernacular.

An elderly gentleman called at a lodging house, and asked the servant who opened the door, "Have you a room to let?" "Yes," she replied; "but——." "But, what?" asked the gentleman. "You are over sixty, aren't you?" asked the girl. "Yes," he answered, "I am sixty-five." "I thought so," said the girl. "You can't have the room, as my missis don't want any funerals from her house!"

People often complain of hard times from a more natural tendency to growl, but a Georgia darkey the other day said: "Nebber seed sich times since I been born. Work all day and steal all night, and blessed if I can hardly make a livin'."

Did you ever notice—of course you have—that a tramp who claims he has a trade but can't get work at it, in the Winter is a brickmaker and in the Summer a lumberman or an ice-sawyer?

Victor Hugo is very gallant, and kisses every lady to whom he is introduced. It is said that two-thirds of the women in France have happened somehow, to be introduced to him.

The Lost Car Seeker.
[Cleveland Press.]

Wm. Wetmore, lost-car agent of the Wabash Railway, passed through the city yesterday on one of his periodical chases after stray cars. Wetmore is a loquacious individual, sings in a church choir wherever Sunday finds him, and his description of his peculiar business is interesting. The lost-car agent is distinctly a cosmopolitan. He carries in his pockets passes over almost every road on the continent—a queer collection by the way—some of them marvels of the engraver's art, and others gaudy as the queen of hearts. One week finds the lost-car agent hunting cars in Florida and the next may discover him in Maine. The rules governing the business are that he must travel by daylight, ride in the rear coach, and keep his eye peeled. Frequently, while sailing past a side track full of cars, he discovers one belonging to his own Company, and by practice he becomes so sharp-eyed that he can photograph the number of that car on his mind in an instant. Arriving at a telegraph station he politely requests the officials of the road to send home his Company's car. Cars are frequently sent from one end of the continent to the other and sent back empty. In case a road be short of cars, they sometimes take the liberty to retain and use them, and sometimes a dishonest road will steal them outright and obliterate the owner's mark and number. A lost-car agent for a Western road recently, after searching for months for a car, found it away out on the plains, forty rods from the railroad, devoid of its trucks, and occupied by an ambitious squatter as a residence.

Magic Corn.

Warts on the hand are quite a nuisance, and how to get rid of them often a question of interest. There lives in Liberty county, where we visited last week a colored woman who professes to take them off by some secret charm. A little nephew of the writer, who had thirty-eight of the horny excrescences on his hands called on her recently for treatment. She counted carefully the warts, and, securing an equal number of grains of corn, rubbed each wart with a separate grain of corn, causing some of the large ones to bleed. These thirty-eight grains of the "staff of life" were carefully preserved and carried home by the doctress, who informed her patient that his warts would drop off in eight days. On the seventh day every one fell off, leaving the skin smooth and soft. Now the question arises, what was it that caused the warts to drop? We can vouch for the above statement, as we have it from the best of authorities—persons with whom we have been intimate for years—who were present at the time.

CURIOUS LOVE STORY.—A very curious story is told by several ancient writers respecting Egirvard, a secretary to Charlemagne, and a daughter of that emperor. The secretary fell in love with the princess, who at length allowed him to visit her. One Winter's night he stayed with her very late and in the meantime a deep snow had fallen. If he left, his footsteps would be observed, and yet to stay would expose him to danger. At length the princess resolved to carry him on her back to a neighboring house, which she did. It happened, however, that from the window of his bedroom the emperor saw the whole affair. In assembly of his lords, on the following day, when Egirvard and his daughter were present, he asked what ought to be done to the man who compelled a king's daughter to carry him on her shoulders, through frost and snow, in the middle of a Winter's night? They answered, that he was worthy of death. The lovers were alarmed; but the emperor, addressing Egirvard, said, "Hadst thou loved my daughter thou shouldst have come to me: thou art worthy of death, but I give thee two lives. Take thy fair porter in marriage; fear God, and love one another."

Ten young boys of London, Canada, have been discovered in a plot to buy a schooner and turn pirates on the lakes. They had each purchased revolvers and were concerting as to weapons of warfare. The money for this outfit, $180, one of the boys stole from a relative. The oldest boy is twelve years of age. The boys said they got their idea of the plot from reading "Jack Harkaway" and other kindred stories.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Treats all Chronic and Special Diseases.

YOUNG MEN

WHO MAY BE SUFFERING from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion, will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the door of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal weakness or private disease of any kind of character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

MIDDLE-AGED MEN.

There are many at the age of thirty to sixty who are troubled with the frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation, and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient can not account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin milkish hue, again changing to a dark and turpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. Dr. S. will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

OFFICE HOURS—10 to 4 and 6 to 8. Sundays from 10 to 12 M. Consultation free. Thorough examination and advice, $5.
